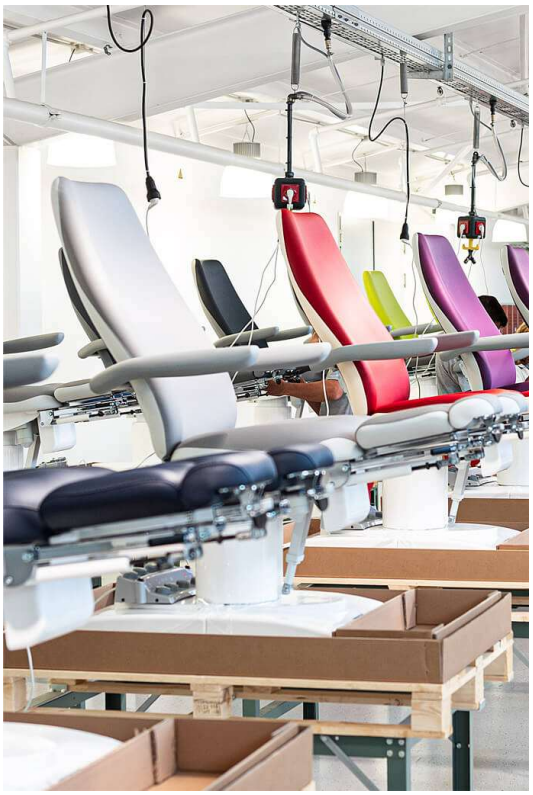
MEDICAL - Technology for people.

MEDICAL has been producing multi-functional furniture for a range of professional uses all over the world. In the field of seating and reclining furniture deeply rooted for generations, we have been combining this expertise with electric drive technology since the early 1980s. In addition to our product range marketed under our own name, we also develop and manufacture customer solutions for specialized industrial partners (OEM).

MEDICAL combines advanced German engineering and industrial production with high-quality traditional manufacturing skills to create durable, sustainable products that are easy to handle.

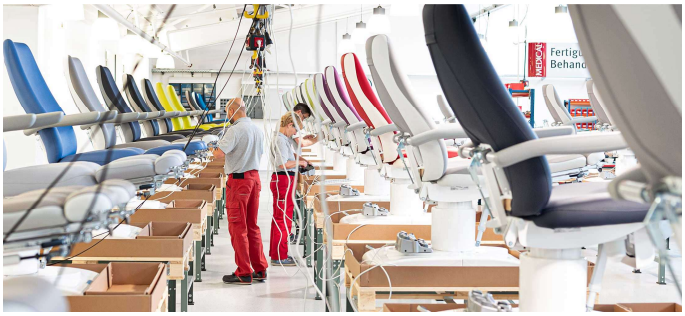
About us. Our mission.

MEDICAL is located in “Ostwestfalen” which is the centre of the German furniture industry. Our team is dedicated to creating furniture, equipped with state-of-the-art electromotive actuators. We design our products to support the treatment, therapy and overall well-being of people.



Quality is a process and not just a feature.

Quality is an integral characteristic of a product. Like its length, width or weight. But we don’t just build quality into our products – we live quality, every single day. Together.



Quality is a process and not just a feature.

Quality should be embedded both within the product itself and in the hearts of those who create it. Matching components are perfectly combined.

This is how we at MEDICAL create intuitively usable products with broad, yet unobtrusive, functionality. We are constantly striving for innovation for the benefit of users, patients and last not least our customers. That is what we mean by technology for people.

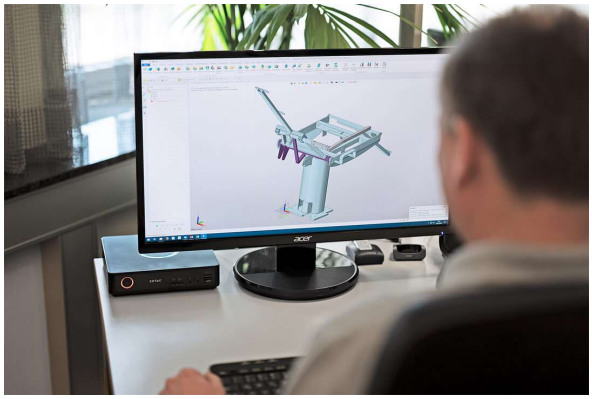
Development & Production

MEDICAL combines advanced German engineering and industrial production with high-quality traditional manufacturing skills to create durable, sustainable products that are easy to handle. These are our major areas of activity.

Development

Perfect solutions are best found where many visionary, experienced and keen personalities are allowed to experiment freely. MEDICAL has these personalities.
MEDICAL combines precisely the key technologies that lead to innovative, ergonomic and internationally successful products, as it has both created the modern linear actuator more than 40 years ago and almost 100 years of tradition in the manufacture of upholstered furniture.



Production

The success of a company depends on its workforce. Fortunately, we can rely on a highly motivated team of specialists. On the one hand, we are proud of our traditional craftsmen like the ones in the upholstery department. On the other hand, the renowned quality of our MEDICAL products is based on the long-term experience of our employees in the assembly department.

Good communication and close cooperation between production, process Planning and research & development departments – and last but not least with our customers and suppliers – guarantee products that meet all requirements consistently, unobtrusively and reliable.

Production in line with standards and regulations

We manufacture your goods in line with strict internal and external standards and regulations in our state-of-the-art production facilities.

Serial production including in-line quality checks and our company's ISO13485-certification guarantee that the outstanding quality of our products is always maintained. This is typical for "Made by MEDICAL".
